The Toronto Alumnae Singers

SINCE their organization in 1939, the Toronto Alumnae Singers have risen to a position of musical importance. They are well known on the professional concert stage, they have appeared over Canadian and American radio networks and have made recordings for RCA Victor. Their work in connection with the entertainment of the armed forces has taken them to camps in all parts of Ontario. Recently they have received offers from New York for a tour of the United States. Their unaccompanied singing of unusual and difficult choral arrangements has won the unanimous approval of musical critics:

"Would have been a sensation in New York or Paris. . . . These girl singers are unrivalled by any such choir in Canada."

—Augustus Bridle in the "Toronto Daily Star".

"Not since the original 'English Singers' appeared in Massey Hall has such fine, expressive, varied and entertaining choral music been heard in Toronto."

—Edward Wodson in the "Toronto Evening Telegram".

"The Toronto Alumnae Singers achieved a brilliant success. Their voices were fresh and charming and their musicianship and expression unique."

—Hector Charlesworth in the "Toronto Globe and Mail".

"Many choristers were amazed at the proficiency of the girls."

—"The Ottawa Journal."

A Message from the Toronto East Medical Association

The Toronto East Medical Association has been requested by the Board of Governors of Toronto East General Hospital to raise $50,000 to assist the Building Fund. Knowing full well the dangerous shortage of hospital beds, especially in Toronto East, we hasten to help.

The Dominion Government in 1943, when faced with increasing casualty lists, intimated that our nearly completed South Wing should be made available to them for military patients. We concurred unanimously, as we feel you would have wished us to do. We receive rent for the building, but no capital grant, and the Government tenancy will probably last five years.

Because of a continuous waiting list of 100 civilian patients, the Government has authorized priorities on men and supplies to proceed immediately with the erection of the West Wing.

The purchasers of tickets for this Concert will aid the Building Fund, and in return will be provided with a Musical Treat which has not been excelled in Toronto.
